

Religion here in Emblem you may Spye
 Poisd in the Ballance of the Sactuary
 The Quaker on a Light within doth Rest
 But hence may Learn it will not Bide the Test
 Into the Scale hee Inspiration flings
 Boasted perfection, notionary, things
 Small pamphlets and large Folio's great Store
 Which hee as sacred Dictates does Adore

And soe (all things Considerd) hee may well
 Who Counte his Authour All Infallible;
 But still you see his side aloft doth flye
 His Arguments are Light as Vanity?
 One single Booke (Gods word) doth overpoize
 Whole Heaps of such poor superficiall Toys;
 All Faith and Doctrine not Deriv'd from thence
 Is but a specious Vain Impertinence.
